

Graphic Designer

SYDNEY

The Role

Based in our dynamic Sydney Studio, we are seeking a highly motivated, creative and visual Graphic Designer to become an integral part of our Brand Experience team.

Our Graphic Designers are essential to the Buchan Brand Experience team, offering an invaluable and visionary approach to a broad cross section of projects. These projects can include both internal initiatives as well as external marketing material and project work. All graphic work is varied and inspired, ranging from standalone, brand experience tasks or working in a multidisciplinary environment overlaying the graphic components to our whole of office projects. The Graphic Designer will generally work as a part of the local Brand Experience team but should also be able to work in a wider business context with our global Brand Experience, Architectural or Interiors teams.

The Graphic Designers will need to provide creative, responsive and forward-thinking design options throughout all phases of the design process. This may include visual components and collation of Request for Fee Proposals, tender submissions, DA submissions, concept and schematic design concepts, way finding signage, logo/brand design, design guideline documents and also the oversight of shop drawings, manufacturing and installation of design elements.

The Graphic Designer should be focused on using their own knowledge base and design skills on the tasks at hand. They will be responsible for tasks set by a senior member of the team as well as setting their own tasks and will need to ensure that the task is done to the correct standard and is an integrated outcome for the project. They will be expected to show initiative in advancing the profile of Brand Experience and graphic design within the business, as well as assisting to reposition projects in the wider community.
